SHALON PAINT is only one of our specialties. It is made of the most permanent materials which are combined by scientific methods and ground by modern machinery in pure Linseed Oil. It will take one gallon of Linseed Oil to thin each gallon of paint, but in order to obtain the maximum wear, the Linseed Oil used for thinning purposes SHOULD BE STRICTLY PURE. If our directions in this particular are followed and the paint is applied to thoroughly dry and well-seasoned lumber, we will guarantee it to be absolutely satisfactory. In addition to Shaloon paint, we manufacture M. B. LIQUID PAINT in 45 colors. This paint is made for special trade and represents the highest paint value. We also manufacture M. B. FLAT PAINT, for exterior use; M. B. FLOOR & DECK PAINT, for porch-floors and decks of vessels; ELASTIC MIXED PAINT, for roofs of buildings, barns and all metal surfaces; ENGLISH WHITE LEAD; FRENCH ZINC; and a general line of MARINE PAINTS.

TOOTH PROVED A GOOD DETECTIVE

NEW YORK.—Special.—Morris Seibsky, of 67 Moore Street, Williamsburg, had such a frightful toothache that he could not sleep, but the aching, throbbing nolar behind the pain was early today responsible for the capture of a burglar who is believed to have taken $20,000 worth of plunder from Williamsburg establishments in the last few weeks, using a taxicab to transport his loot.

Seibsky left his bed and went to sit by a window, the better to meditate whether it would be more just to put a stick of dynamite in his mouth or merely to wait until the dentists began business for the day.

While thus engaged he saw a man coming out of 60 Moore Street, just across the way. Benjamin Israsky, a dry goods and silk jobber, did business over at No. 60, and Seibsky knew that his neighbor was not in the habit of sending out goods at 3 o'clock in the morning.

So he called Policeman Stern, of the Stagg Street Station. The policeman hid in the hallway and waited for the stranger to come back, seeing that he had left a huge bundle behind him.

In a few moments a taxicab stopped at the hallway and Samuel Lewis, of 624 New Lots Road, according to himself, jumped out and started to take the bundle.

Stern arrested Lewis and took him to the station. The chauffeur told a straight story and was released, but the other prisoner was taken to the Manhattan Avenue Police Court, where he was held without bail until Monday on the charge of burglary.

SUFFRAGETTES INVADE BALMORAL CASTLE

EDINBURGH, Special.—Militant suffragettes struck their boldest blow by invading the estate at Balmoral Castle, King George's Scottish residence, where His Majesty is at present entertaining a number of Cabinet officers.

Evading the Royal Guards the women tore up all the golf flags upon the royal links, substituting purple banners bearing the inscription: "Cabinet ministers must stop forcibly feeding women. Votes for women means peace for Cabinet ministers."

Fearing that King George might suffer at the hands of the women, special guards were provided for His Majesty when he walked upon the grounds today.

Bertram Spencer, Murderer of Martha Blackstone, Not Worrying About Chair.

BOSTON, MASS.—Special.—Bertram G. Spencer, who is condemned to die within eight days for the murder of Miss Martha Blackstone, a Springfield school teacher, arose almost blithely in his cell at Charlestown prison.

The fact that he is in the cell where Clarence V. T. Richeson passed his last days seemed to have no effect on the prisoner. He got up to begin his day in the death house with the same imperturbable demeanor that marked him on his arrival as one of the coolest condemned men the prison authorities ever watched through his last hours.

Spencer still hopes while a last attempt to substitute life imprisonment for death is being made by the lawyer, Richard P. Stapleton, of Holyoke.

HAYES GOT ORDER TO STOP RAIDS

NEW YORK.—Special.—Cross-examined by Assistant Corporation Counsel Farley at his trial on the charge of making false statements to a superior officer, former Inspector Cornelius G. Hayes accused Police Commissioner Waldo of having interfered with his work.

Hayes said that when he went to the Fourth Inspection District from the First, where he had made a reputation for stamping out vice, he decided to pursue the same tactics in the new district as in the old one. These tactics were to raid disorderly houses, after obtaining evidence against them.

"What happened while you were carrying out this policy?" he was asked.

"Orders from the commissioner that I was not to make arrests as long as things were outwardly quiet came later," replied Hayes. "What do you think is the best manner of stamping out these disorderly houses?" questioned Mr. Farley.

"Well, when I went to the Fourth District I thought the houses ought to be closed up," said Hayes. "Later, upon receiving orders not to close them I changed my policy."

"If it was your belief that they ought to be closed," said Farley, "why did you not close them?"

"Because," answered Hayes, "I supposed that when a superior officer gave an order, the superior officer knew what he was about, and it was up to me to obey."

BABY BORN WITH INITIALS IN EYES

PHILADELPHIA, Special.—Physicians at the Jefferson Medical College are attempting to explain the phenomena of initials continually mirrored in the retina of the eyes of two-year-old John Dugan, of 1622 North Sixteenth Street, this city.

Mirrored in his eyes are two distinct letters of typographical design, each a quarter of an inch high. They are the initials of the name decided upon by the boy's parents before he was born. That name was John Dugan, the name the boy now bears. In the middle of John's right eye, as if imbedded in the iris by the hand of a fanatic master surgeon, is the print of the type "J." In the left eye is similarly set his other initial, "D." John Dugan was expected to be awaited by his parents, and they decided upon his name before he was born. He is now more than two years old, and the initials are still there. They are even more plainly visible than they were when John was born. The child's eyesight is perfect and his health robust. His mind and conduct is normal.

RAYMOND DEAD IN CHICAGO HOTEL

Former Pitcher of N. Y. Giants Supposed to Have Died of Heat and Alcoholism.

CHICAGO, Ills., Special. Arthur "Doc" Raymond, former pitcher for the New York Giants and known to the baseball world for his eccentricities, was found dead today in the Hotel Veley here.

Death was due to heart failure, superinduced by the heat and excessive alcoholism.

Raymond was one of the most eccentric characters in baseball and was continually in trouble, owing to his over-indulgence.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants, gave him several chances to redeem himself and finally cast him adrift.

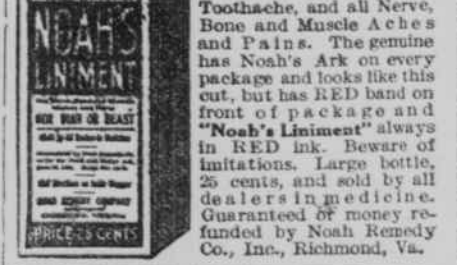

When the United States League was organized Raymond was signed by the Chicago club and was used as its main drawing card during the life of that organization. He pitched a part of several games in Richmond against the Reds during the last days of the league season.

When in condition Raymond was one of the best pitchers in the country.

The people of the United States have an exhibit of which they may well be ashamed in the published charges of the wholesale use of money by the Republicans in 1904 for the salvation of Mr. Roosevelt.

It raises the question as to the honest right he has to wear the mantle of an ex-President. In 1896 but for Hanan's money Ohio would have gone Democratic, and then Bryan instead of McKinley would have been President, and Mr. Roosevelt would never have been heard of. These two elections stand out prominently as having been dictated by the cash.—Eastern Shore Herald.

We are happy to be able to exploit one truth by Teddy: Penrose ought to be thrown out of the Senate.—Charlottesville Progress.

"BLOODY FIFTH" TO MEET SOON

FAMOUS CAVALRY REGIMENT TO HOLD REUNION HERE DURING STATE FAIR.

RICHMOND, VA.—Special.—Survivors of the old "Bloody Fifth" Cavalry Regiment will have a great reunion in this city during the week of the State Fair. Plans to this end have been set on foot by President J. T. Davis and Secretary Samuel C. Shield, of the association. The meeting will be marked with an elaborate banquet, and there will be many speeches on the occasion.

Secretary Shield spent much of his vacation in visiting down on the peninsula, and in that time he met many of the old men who were in that command, and with one accord those able to travel have agreed to make the trip. The event will be held some day and night during the fair, and it is expected that most of the survivors will make the trip to Richmond.

This old command has a history of which the members are proud, and no one who followed them from the formation of the regiment to the end of the war will deny that the members saw hard service and ever gave a good account of themselves.

VISITS FATHER FINDS HIM DEAD

Former Employee Suspected of Murder of John Burns, Resident of Carthage, N. Y.

UTICA, N. Y.—Special. John Burns, an aged resident of Carthage, north of here, was found murdered in his home early Saturday by his son, Dr. Thomas Burns, of Watertown, who arrived by automobile to pay a visit to his father.

The crime had evidently been committed with some heavy blunt instrument and the body had evidently lain in the house at least twelve hours before the discovery was made.

Robbery was the motive of the crime, as the house had been ransacked and $70 stolen.

A man who had been employed by the victim is being sought.

According to a report from Chicago, very few of the farmers of the Northwest own automobiles. If they would migrate to the South, particularly to Virginia, in a few short years they would be in position to afford not only this, but all the other modern luxuries. Over on the Eastern Shore, for example, the farmer who doesn't own and drive his motor car is ostracized by his neighbors.—Virginia Pilot.
